

Rose Haven

Freida Hall

I have often thought of the many hands that have cultivated immense beauty at the Rose Haven in Temecula. I have seen people wandering and lingering, smelling the flowers, capturing the beauty on their cameras, and celebrating life by being there with a friend. The Rose Haven has been like a welcomed hug when I needed to be still and shed some tears. This vibrant garden has inspired dreams and helped me to see different perspectives. The art piece was to express gratitude to those with dirt under their nails, a sun hat on, and a desire to tend to the growth and blooms at the Rose Haven.
